

Gabrielle Gelo is a former biology teacher with a bachelor's degree from Rutgers University. She lives in San Antonio with her husband of 36 years; they have two grown sons, Terence and Thomas.

Gabrielle experienced the emotional and financial strain of long term care first-hand, when a car accident left her disabled at home for 5 months, and again when her elderly mom needed 8 years of home care. Gabrielle joined ACSIA Partners, the nation's largest agency dedicated to long term care planning solutions in 2009.

Gabrielle is a member of the Austin Long Term Care Guild, the American Association of Long Term Care Insurance, the national non-profit, 3 in 4 Need More, and serves on the boards of the San Antonio Association of Health Underwriters, Financial Planning Association (San Antonio), and the San Antonio Women's Chamber of Commerce. She has been a guest on several radio programs, and was invited by the State of Texas to film a TV commercial promoting long term care insurance.
